Corporate Librarian Receives FAN Division Award

Larry Walton, Corporate Librarian and Manager, Pet Inc., and SLA member, was presented with the Food, Agriculture, and Nutrition Division's Distinguished Member Award at June's Annual Conference. The Award is given for a member's demonstrated exemplary work to a Division, Chapter, or the profession.

The Distinguished Member Award is sponsored by The Faxon Company; the recipient receives a plaque and a check for $100.

Walton has served on several SLA national committees and occupied many Association offices, including President of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Chapter. He has served as Chair of the FAN Division and edited the Division's Food Publications Round-up (a bibliography).

JOBLINE

Assistant Librarian: Challenging full-time position in an active library serving a teaching hospital and a growing college of nursing. Has primary responsibility for general reference; shared responsibility for database searching, end-user searching instruction, oversight of library's media center and computer-assisted-instruction program. Participates in bibliographic instruction, interlibrary loan, circulation, training of student workers and volunteers, and program planning. Opportunity to participate in monographs and audiovisual cataloging. Some clerical responsibilities.

Requirements: Either bachelor's degree, with additional course work in library science strongly preferred, and at least two years of recent library experience, preferably in health sciences setting; or recent MLS degree and preprofessional library experience. Will consider December 1990 MLIS; will make some adjustments in work schedule so commuting St. Louis area student can complete MLIS courses in Columbia. Excellent oral and written communications skills, with ability to maintain composure and humor when faced with multiple concurrent demands. Background/training in online database searching and with microcomputers; experience with automated library systems strongly preferred; experience with audiovisual software and hardware preferred; cataloging background a plus.

We offer an excellent benefits package including tuition reimbursement, health and dental insurance, free parking, and on-site child care center. Apply to Deaconess Hospital, Attention: Human Resources (Assistant Librarian Position), 6150 Oakland Ave., St. Louis, MO 63139. For additional information about the position, contact Carol Iglauer, Chief Librarian, Drusch Professional Library, Deaconess Hospital, (314) 768-3147.
